THE SHOWMAN'S COURTSHIP.

BY ARTEMUS WARD.

Thar was affecting ties which made me hanker arter Betsy. Her father's farm jined our'n; their cows and our'n sqenched their thirst at the same spring; our old mares both had stars in their forreds; the measles broke out in both families at nearly the same period; our parents (Betsy's and mine) slept, every Sunday, in the same meeting house, and the nabers used to observe "how thick the Wards & Peasles air!" It was a sublime sight, in the Spring of the year, to see our several mothers (Betsy's and mine) with their gowns pinned up so they couldn't sile em, effectionately bilin soap together and abusin the nabers.

Altho I hankered after the affecshuns I darsent tell her of the fires which was ragin in my buzzum. I'd try to do it but my tung would kewollup up agin the roof of my mouth & stick thar like death to a desert African or a country postmaster to his offis, while my heart whanged against my ribs like an old fashioned wheat flail agin a barn door.

'Twas a calm still nite in June. All natur was husht and nary zeffer disturbed the sereen silens. I sot with Betsy Jane on the fence of her father's pastur. We'd bin rompin throo the woods pullin flowers and drivin the woodchuck from his native lair (so to speak) with long sticks. Wal we sot thar on the fence, a swingin our feet two and fro, blushin as red as the baldinswille skool house when it was fust painted, and looking very simple I make no doubt. My left arm ockepied in ballunsin myself on the fence, while my rite was wound luvingly round her waste.

I cleared my throat and tremblingly sed, "Betsy, you're a Gazelle."

I though that air putty fine. I waited to see what effect it would have upon her. It evidently did'nt fetch her, for she up and sed

"You're a sheep!"

Sez I, "Betsy Jane, I think very muchly of you."

"I don't believe a word you say—so there now come!" with which observation she hitched away from me.

"I wish thar was winders to my sole," sed I, "so that you could see some of my feelins.—Thar's fire enough in here," sed I, striken my buzzom, "to bile all the corn beef and turnips in the naberhood. Veranvious and the critter ain't a circumstans."

She bowed her head down and commenst chawin the strings of her sun bonnet.

Then drawin herself up to her full hite she sed:

"I won't listen to your nonsens any longer.—Jest say strate out what you're drivin at. If you mean gettin hitched, I'M IN!"

I konsidered that air enuff for all practical purposes, and we perceeded immejitly to the parson's and was made 1 that nite.

"Soon as the evening shades prevail,
The moon takes up the wondrous tale,
And nightly to the listening earth
Repeats the story of her birth;
And all the stars that round her burn,
And all the planets in their turn,
Confirm the tidings as they roll,
And spread the truth from pole to pole.
What though, in solemn silence, all
Move round this dark terrestrial ball;
What though no real voice nor sound,
Among their radiant orbs be found;
In reason's ear they all rejoice,
And utter forth a glorious voice,
For ever singing as they shine,
The hand that made us is divine."

It seems to me those verses shine like the stars. They shine out of a great deep calm.—When he turns to Heaven, a Sabbath comes over that man's mind, and his face lights up from it with a glory of thanks and prayer. His sense of religion stirs through his whole being. In the fields, in the town, looking at the birds in the trees, at the children in the streets, in the morning or in the moonlight, over his books in his own room, in a happy party at a conntry merry-making or a town assembly, good-will and peace to God's creatures, and love and awe of Him who made them, fill his pure heart and shine from his kind face. If Swift's life was the most wretched, I think Addison's was one of the most enviable. A life prosperous and beautiful,—a calm death,—an immense fame and affection afterwards for his happy and spotless name.—Thackeray.

The Plunder of Sherman's March.

There is no estimating the desoaltion which a gigantic army spreads in its hostile march through a country, even under the discipline of the most conscientious and elevated leadership. The Southern people, through whose States the colossal march of Sherman carried its inevitable calamities of fire and death, with all the crimes and abominations which ugly passion in such masses of men engenders, are much condemned by their conquerors, for the bitter denunciations which they have sometimes invoked, while smarting under their calamities, upon the Northern people. We have, on the contrary, often wondered at their patience and their silence, and especially have we thus felt as often as specimens of the trophies so abounding in this city, brought hither by Sherman's returning victorious troops, have fallen under our observation.—Nat. Intelligencer.

An Indiana paper "dares" anybody "to beat" the Radical nominations for Congress in that State. Four of the candidates are Major-Generals. Nobody ever heard of any of them except Washburn, who lives in history by reason of the confederates having captured his trousers at Memphis.

The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this institution as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President, E. The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, Editors.

Tuesday Evening, August 7, 1866.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS.
NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JONATHAN WORTH,
OF RANDOLPH.

Philadelphia Convention.

The delegates from the several Districts in this State, for the purpose of appointing delegates for the State at large to the Philadelphia Convention, will meet in this City, on Friday next, at the Court House, at 12 o'clock, M. The N. C. Railroad, and, we believe, all the rest, pass the delegates over the Roads for half price.

The delegates to the District Convention of this District will meet on the same day, at 11 o'clock, in the Court House, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Gilliam.

History of the Secession Ordinance.

On the 20th day of May, 1861, the delegates from the several Counties of the State met in Convention in the Hall of the House of Commons, in this city, produced their credentials and proceeded to business.

A full quorum being present, Hon. Weldon N. Edwards, of Warren, and Hon. W. A. Graham were put in nomination for President. Mr. Edwards received 65 votes and Mr. Graham forty-eight. Mr. Edwards having received a majority, was declared duly elected. This vote tested the state of parties in that body, those known as secessionists voting for Mr. Edwards, and those known as conservatives voting for Mr. Graham.

Mr. Badger here offered his ordinance, the reading of which was postponed to complete the organization.

Mr. W. L. Steele, of Richmond was elected Secretary and Mr. L. C. Edwards, of Granville, Assistant Secretary. The Doorkeepers were then elected and the Convention was called to prayer, offered by Rev. Mr. Tucker, of the M. E. Church, South.

The President here presented a communication from Hon. F. J. Moses, of South Carolina, enclosing the ordinance of secession adopted by South Carolina.

Mr. Moses was invited to a seat and addressed the Convention on the subject of his mission.

A resolution was passed inviting the Clergy of the city to open the sessions of the Convention with prayer.

Mr. Badger now called up his paper, which was read, and which we copy from the Journals of the Convention, as follows:

AN ORDINANCE DECLARING THE SEPARATION OF NORTH CAROLINA FROM THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois, and Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, were chosen President and Vice President of the United States by a party in fact and avowedly entirely sectional in its organization, and hostile in its declared principles to the institutions of the Southern States of the Union, and thereupon, certain Southern States did separate themselves from the Union, and form another and independent government, under the name of "The Confederate States of America"; and, whereas, the people of North Carolina, though justly aggrieved by the evident tendency of this election, and of these principles, did, nevertheless, abstain from adopting any such measure of separation, and on the contrary, influenced by an ardent attachment to the Union and Constitution which their fathers had transmitted to them, did remain in the said Union, loyally discharging all their duties under the Constitution, in the hope that what was threatening in public affairs might yield to the united efforts of patriotic men from every part of the nation, and by these efforts such guarantees for the security of our rights might be obtained as should restore confidence, renew alienated ties, and finally re-unite all the States in a common bond of fraternal Union; meantime, cheerfully and faithfully exerting whatever influence they possessed for the accomplishment of this most desirable end; and, whereas, things being in this condition, and the people of the State indulging this hope, the said Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, did, on the sixteenth day of April, by his proclamation, call upon the States of the Union to furnish large bodies of troops to enable him, under the false pretence of executing the laws, to march an army into the seceded States with a view to their subjection under an arbitrary and military authority, there being no law of Congress authorizing such calling out of troops, and no Constitutional right to use them, if called out, for the purpose intended by him; and, whereas, this call for troops has been answered throughout the northern, northwestern and middle non-slaveholding States with enthusiastic readiness, and it is evident, from the tone of the entire press of those States, and the open avowal of their public men, that it is the fixed purpose of the government and people of those States to wage a cruel war against the seceded States, to destroy utterly the fairest portion of this continent, and reduce its inhabitants to absolute subjection and abject slavery; and, whereas, in aid of these detestable plans and wicked measures, the said Lincoln, without any shadow of rightful authority, and in plain violation of the Constitution of the United States, has, by other proclamations, declared the ports of North Carolina, as well as all the other Atlantic and Gulf States, under blockade; thus seeking to cut off our trade with all parts of the world:

And, whereas, since his accession to power, the whole conduct of the said Lincoln has been marked by a succession of false, disingenuous and treacherous acts and declarations, proving incontestibly that he is, at least in his dealings with Southern States and Southern men, void of faith and honor:

And, whereas, he is now governing by military rule alone, enlarging, by new enlistments of men, both the military and naval force, without any authority of law, having set aside all constitutional and legal restraints, and made all constitutional and legal rights dependent upon his mere pleasure, and that of his military subordinates, and, whereas, all his unconstitutional, illegal and oppressive acts, all his wicked and diabolical purposes, and his present position of usurper and military dictator, he has been, and is, encouraged and supported by the great body of the people of the non-slaveholding States:

Therefore, this Convention, now here assembled, in the name and with the sovereign power of the people of North Carolina, doth, for the reasons aforesaid, and others, and in order to preserve the undoubted rights and liberties of the said people, hereby declare all connection of government between this State and the United States of America dissolved and abrogated, and this State to be a free, sovereign, and independent State, owing no subordination, obedience, support or other duty to the said United States, their Constitution or authorities, anything in her ratification of said Constitution, or of any amendment or amendments thereto, to the contrary notwithstanding; and having full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do; and appealing to the Supreme Governor of the world for the justice of our cause, and beseeching Him for his gracious help and blessing, we will, to the uttermost of our power, and to the last extremity, maintain, defend and uphold this declaration."

Mr. Craige offered the following as a substitute for the foregoing:

"AN ORDINANCE DISSOLVING THE UNION BETWEEN THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA AND THE OTHER STATES UNITED WITH HER UNDER THE COMPACT OF GOVERNMENT, ENTITLED, 'THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.'

We, the people of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained, That the ordinance adopted by the State of North Carolina in the Convention of 1789, whereby the Constitution of the United States was ratified and adopted; and also all acts and parts of acts of the General Assembly, ratifying and adopting amendments to the said Constitution, are hereby repealed, rescinded and abrogated.

We do further declare and ordain, That the Union now subsisting between the State of North Carolina and the other States, under the title of "The United States of America," is hereby dissolved, and that the State of North Carolina is in full possession and exercise of all those rights of sovereignty which belong and appertain to a free and independent State."

Mr. Barnes moved that the Convention sit with closed doors, which was not agreed to: Ayes 54, noes 59.

The question now being on the substitute offered by Mr. Craige.

Mr. Ruffin moved that the subject lie on the table with a view to the appointment of a committee to prepare and report an ordinance of separation, which was not concurred in: Ayes 44, noes 49.

The question recurring on the motion of Mr. Craige,

Mr. Ferebee asked that the question be divided, so that the vote should first be taken on striking out. It was so ordered, and the question being put, "Will the Convention agree to strike out?" it was determined in the affirmative, on a call of the yeas and nays, on motion of Mr. Biggs.

Those voting in the affirmative were,

Mr. President and Messrs. Arrington, Ashe, Battle, of E., Biggs, Brodnax, Brown, Bunting, Carson, Cowan, Craige, Cunningham, Darden, Durham, Ellison, Foster, of Ashe, Fuller, Gee, Graves, Green, Greenlee, Grimes, Hamlin, Hargrove, Hearne, Henkel, Hill, Hicks, Houston, of Duplin, Houston, of Union, Howard, Johnston, of Gaston, Johnston, of Mecklenburg, Lander, Leak, McDowell, of Bladen, McDowell, of Burke, McDowell, of Madison, McNeill, of Cumberland, McNeill, of Harnett, Meares, Miller, Moody, Moseley, Myers, Osborne, Patterson, Penland, Phifer, Rayner, Reid, Rhodes, Royster, Ruffin, Shaw, Shipp, Smith, of Halifax, Stewart, Strong, Sutherland, Thompson, Thornton, Tracey, Turner, Venable, Ward, Warren, Washington, Williams, Winslow, Woodfin and Wooten—72.

In the negative,

Messrs. Atkinson, Armfield, Badger, Barnes, Battle, of Wake, Berry, Bond, Calloway, Cannon, Christian, Councill, Davidson, Dick, Douthitt, Eller, Ferebee, Foster, of Randolph, Gilmer, Graham, Headen, Holden, Jones, of Caldwell, Jones, of Rowan, Kittrell, Long, Mann, Manning, Merritt, Mitchell, Pettigrew, Sanders, Satterthwaite, Smith, of Johnston, Speed, Sprouse, Spruill, of Bertie, Spruill, of Tyrrell, Thomas, Walton and Wilson—40.

So the Convention agreed to strike out.

William H. Thomas, Delegate from Jackson county, presented his credentials and took his seat in the Convention.

The question recurring upon the insertion of the amendment of Mr. Craige,

Mr. Ruffin moved to amend the same so that it should read as follows: "We, the people of the State of North Carolina in Convention assembled, do declare and ordain, that the Union now subsisting between the State of North Carolina and the other States, under the title of "The United States of America," is hereby dissolved, and that the State of North Carolina is in full possession and exercise of all those rights of sovereignty which belong and appertain to a free and independent State."

Upon this question the yeas and nays were ordered, on motion of Mr. Ashe, and resulted as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Allison, Armfield, Barnes, Battle, of Wake, Berry, Bond, Brodnax, Calloway, Cannon, Christian, Davidson, Dick, Douthit, Eller, Ellison, Ferebee, Foster, of Randolph, Gilmer, Graham, Hearne, Headen, Holden, Jones, of Caldwell, Jones, of Rowan, Kittrell, Long, Mann, Manning, Merritt, Mitchell, Patterson, Pettigrew, Sanders, Satterthwaite, Shipp, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Macon, Speed, Sprouse, Spruill, of Bertie, Spruill, of Tyrrell, Thomas, of Carteret, Walton, Washington, Warren, Whitford and Wilson—47.

NAYS—Mr. President and Messrs. Arrington, Ashe, Battle, of Edgecombe, Biggs, Brown, Bunting, Carson, Councill, Cowan, Craige, Cunningham, Darden, Durham, Foster, of Ashe, Foy, Fuller, Gee, Graves, Green, Greenlee, Grimes, Hamlin, Hargrove, Hicks, Hill, Houston, of Duplin, Houston, of Union, Howard, Johnston, of Gaston, Johnston, of Mecklenburg, Lander, Leak, McDowell, of Bladen, McDowell, of Burke, McDowell, of Madison, McNeill, of Cumberland, McNeill, of Harnett, Meares, Miller, Moody, Moseley, Osborne, Penland, Phifer, Rayner, Reid, Rhodes, Royster, Shaw, Smith, of Halifax, Stewart, Strong, Sutherland, Thomas, of Jackson, Thompson, Thornton, Tracy, Turner, Venable, Ward, Williams, Winslow, Woodfin and Wooten—66.

So the amendment did not prevail.

The amendment of Mr. Craige was adopted, and the question recurring on the passage of the Ordinance, it was unanimously agreed to, as follows:

AYES—Mr. President and Messrs. Allison, Armfield, Arrington, Ashe, Barnes, Battle, of Edgecombe, Battle, of Wake, Berry, Biggs, Bond, Brodnax, Brown, Bunting, Calloway, Cannon, Carson, Christian, Cowan, Council, Craige, Cunningham, Darden, Davidson, Dick, Douthitt, Durham, Eller, Ellison, Ferebee, Foster, of Ashe, Foster, of Randolph, Foy, Fuller, Gee, Gilmer, Graham, Graves, Green, Greenlee, Grimes, Hamlin, Hargrove, Hearne, Headen, Hicks, Holden, Hill, Houston, of Duplin, Houston, of Union, Howard, Johnston, of Gaston, Johnston, of Mecklenburg, Jones, of Caldwell, Jones, of Rowan, Kittrell, Lander, Leak, Long, Mann, Manning, McDowell, of Bladen, McDowell, of Burke, McDowell, of Madison, McNeill, of Cumberland, McNeill, of Harnett, Meares, Merritt, Miller, Mitchell, Moody, Moseley, Myers, Osborne, Patterson, Penland, Pettigrew, Phifer, Rayner, Rhodes, Reid, Royster, Ruffin, Sanders, Satterthwaite, Shaw, Shipp, Smith, of Halifax, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Macon, Speed, Sprouse, Spruill, of Bertie, Spruill, of Tyrrell, Sutherland, Stewart, Strong, Thomas, of Carteret, Thomas, of Jackson, Thompson, Thornton, Tracy, Turner, Venable, Walton, Ward, Warren, Washington, Whitford, Williams, Wilson, Winslow, Woodfin and Wooten—115.

Mr. Rayner moved that the Ordinance be enrolled upon parchment and signed in open session on to-morrow at 12 o'clock, M.

Mr. Barnes moved to amend by the appointment of a Committee of five to prepare the parchment and make arrangements as to the time when the signatures of the members should be affixed; and that the committee give due notice thereof, so that the solemn and important ceremony could be witnessed by the people of the State; and it was agreed to,

On the next day, the following record is made in the Journal:

"Messrs. Badger, Batchelor and Gorrell severally asked and obtained leave to have it recorded on the Journal, that if they had been present yesterday, they would have voted in favor of the ordinance dissolving the Union then subsisting between the State of North Carolina and the other States."

Mr. Holden was then publishing the Weekly and Semi-Weekly Standard. The following is his first utterance after the passage of the ordinance:

NORTH CAROLINA STATE CONVENTION.

Monday, 20th May, 1861.

"Mr. Badger offered an ordinance separating North Carolina from the Federal Government, and Mr. Craige, of Rowan, also offered an ordinance of a similar character. Considerable debate took place, not as to whether an ordinance of separation should be passed, but as to the character of the ordinance. Messrs. Badger, Craige, Ruffin, Graham, Barnes, Reid, Venable and others taking part in the debate.

About 6 o'clock P. M. the ordinance offered by Mr. Craige was adopted unanimously, every member present voting in the affirmative. This ordinance repeals the ordinance of 1789, by which the Federal Constitution was ratified, and declares North Carolina a sovereign and independent State.

As soon as the vote was announced, one hundred guns were fired on Capitol Square, and the bells of the City were rung, amidst the shouts of an excited multitude.

An ordinance was then unanimously passed adopting the Provisional Government of the Confederate States, and to day (Tuesday) no doubt the Constitution of the Confederate States will be adopted, and North Carolina will thus take her place as a member of the Confederate States.

Thus was the anniversary of the Mecklenburg declaration of Independence gloriously celebrated by the delegates of the people in Convention assembled. North Carolina has been slow to act, but she has acted finally. We think she has acted wisely from first to last. Henceforth her destinies are with the States of the South, and she will make good her act of the 20th of May, 1861, with her last dollar and her last man, if such a sacrifice should be required at her hands."

The National Union Convention.

The National Union Executive Committee, at Washington City, announce to the delegates that the Railroads will pass them at reduced rates or half price.

The Committee also request that all delegates who pass through the City of Washington, will please call at the rooms of the Union National Club, No. 490 Twelfth Street, between E. and F. Streets, and register their names.

The indications are that every Southern State will be represented. So far as we can judge, the delegates appointed from the South will be eminently conservative, embracing prominent gentlemen from both the old Whig and Democratic parties. They are true friends of the Union under the Constitution, and are warmly devoted to the reconciliation of the States and people upon the policy of President Johnson, as the wisest and best yet proposed.

The Southern delegates accept the invitation of the Northern supporters of the Union and the Constitution and of President Johnson's policy in good faith, upon the platform contained in the invitation.

They do not propose to inaugurate or revive new or old measures. They accept the invitation, not to lead, but to co-operate, as far as they can, in all measures that look to the reconciliation of the two sections, in the best way, and to the future prosperity and consolidation of the Union.

The Southern delegates will most probably hold a preliminary conference, in order to unite and harmonize upon that course of policy which they may adopt, which will most likely tend to promote the great objects of the Convention, before they take their seats in that body.

The delegates are generally wise and prudent men, and the Southern people expect from them such a course as will contribute to the pacification of the nation, and guard the honor of both sections.

The enemies of the Convention have predicted evil of it. Threats from Radical sources are abundant, but we hope that all their machinations for evil may be defeated, and the deliberations of the Convention may result in the greatest possible good to the nation.

Radical Philanthrophy.

We have never believed in the patriotism or philanthrophy of the abolitionists, as a political party. Nor have we any confidence in the statesmanship or political integrity of the wire-workers of the Radical party.

Mr. Boutwell, of Mass., is a very active member of the Radical cabal, which seeks the utter prostration of the political and material power of the South. In a recent speech, he urges upon his party the necessity of pressing the dogma of negro suffrage in the Southern States, not as a right and necessary privilege to the colored race, but for the purpose of preventing the blacks from emigrating to the North, to obtain subsistence and political equality. He warned the working white men of the North against the consequences of allowing the blacks to go North!

This is in perfect keeping with all their movements. And yet the blacks of the South allow themselves to be fooled, constantly, by the professions of their hypocritical Northern sympathisers. But if they can do better at the North, as many of them can, we advise them to go there. They have as much right to the fleshpots and treasure of the North as they have to the short allowance in the South, and we advise them to go there.

The Falsehood and Exaggeration of the Radical Press.

From the New-York Times, (Republican.)

The course of the radical press in regard to the New Orleans riot would be more tolerable if it conveyed an impression of disinterestedness or sincerity. Considerable allowances might be made for the extravagance of an attack upon the population of a great city, if the aim clearly were to bring the population into more hearty accord with the Republic. The elevation of slaughtered negroes into martyrs might be excusable if there were any tenable ground for believing that it proceeded from a humane and an unselfish concern for an ignorant and hardly-used race. But for this charitable interpretation of the course pursued by Radical journals there is no room. It is at variance with indisputable facts, for their course is intelligible only when we start with a distinct understanding that the aim of radical journalism is to intensify sectional bitterness, not to promote sectional harmony—to foster the feelings of anger and estrangement as between the Unionists of the North and the people of the South—to aid the purposes of those who would ride into power on the strength of a pretended sympathy with the negro, and, under the plea of protecting the blacks, would subject the majority of the whites to insult and oppression.

Thus considered, the intemperate misrepresentation of affairs in New Orleans, the unscrupulous and unjust abuse of President Johnson for his conduct in relation thereto, and the wholesale imputations upon the loyalty and humanity of the people of Louisiana, become clear to the most superficial observer. They are parts of a well-considered scheme to help the radical party in keeping the South out of the Union. They are a development of the policy that has for months past systematically magnified every occurrence that could be made to tell against the South. They are in conformity with the tactics which have persistently ignored all evidence of returning friendliness and loyalty on the part of the South, and which, with equal persistency, have seized upon every private outrage, every act of individual wrong, every local row, as proof of the necessity of prolonging the era of military supremacy.

Nothing is too great, nothing is too small, for this purpose. The spirit which seizes upon the New Orleans riot as a partisan god-send, and dwells with a malignant perseverance upon its every incident, does not disdain the murder of a solitary citizen. All is good fish that comes to the radical net. All is made to render precious service to the radical cause. The same process of perversion that represents a riot begun by negroes as a war upon the negroes, is used to convey the idea that an assault upon a loyal citizen, or a robbery from which a loyal citizen suffers, or a squabble in which a colored individual loses an eye, or a fight in which a Rebel rowdy kills a Union rowdy—must be regarded as an indication of general lawlessness and disloyalty. The intention is the same in every instance. It is to keep alive ill feeling between North and South, and between races in the South, with the view of justifying the programme proposed by the radicals.

Not a week passes without an illustration upon this head. Ere the ink is dry which accuses President Johnson of murder, tidings come of the killing of an ex-Union soldier in his bed, somewhere in Georgia. Forthwith a cry is raised for re-imposing martial law upon that State, and lying homilies are preached upon the ineradicable depravity and treason of the Southern people. From another quarter we have the news that a black man has lost his life in a street brawl, of the origin of which we know nothing, and again the country is edified with despatches touching the divine mission of the Freedmen's Bureau, as a saving agency between white wolves and black lambs.

Of course, the journals which thus pander to sectional prejudice, and feed the passion upon which the radicals play as a key to power, take no notice of incidents and demonstrations at variance with their policy. For the manifold signs of returning reason and loyalty which have been visible in the South, they have had no word of encouragement or even of recognition. There has been a plentiful record of outrage by negroes, outrage upon females, murderous attacks upon white men, and robberies without number; but our radical cotemporaries have not been honest enough to enter these items up on the other side of the account. They have kept out of sight the despatch from New Orleans, stating that, after the termination of the riot, the peace was a second time disturbed by negroes firing upon white citizens. We venture to say, too, that they will not indite savage articles upon the lawlessness of Philadelphia, predicated upon the doings of a couple of black cut-throats, as reported yesterday afternoon.—Had the attempt at murder occurred in Charleston, and had the hired assassins been white instead of black, there would be no end to the sensational headings and essays upon the subject.

The folly of this method of ministering to partisan prejudice is as obvious as its mischievousness. What would be thought of the Richmond editor who should gather together the details of a single month's murders in the city of New York, and propose to hold the whole community responsible for the record? Or of the New Orleans editor, who should parade a late case of matricide in Connecticut, as a proof of social disorganization in the land of steady habits? Or of the Charleston editor, who should cite cases of lawlessness from the sparse settlements of Iowa, or the remote region of Nevada, as evidence of anarchy in the great West? He would be laughed at as a fanatic or a fool. He would be told that exceptional cases of crime prove nothing save that the millenium has not dawned upon the world. He would be reminded of the danger and injustice of hasty generalization, and would be told that, despite these drawbacks, the North and West rank on a level with the most civilized communities.—Why shall we deal differently with the South? Why shall we exact from Southern cities a more profound respect for virtue and law than exists among ourselves? Why shall we erect for the Southern people a standard to which we of the North have not attained, or affirm a degree of general responsibility which in the North would be indignantly repudiated? Let it be admitted, once for always, that, apart from the rebellion, Southern citizens are neither better nor worse than Northern citizens. And let us not forget that since North and South are bound to dwell together, and to share the future together, the sooner they get back to friendly terms the better it will be for both.

An exchange says that in a public office, in a Western city, the following notice may be seen: "Lost—A valuable new silk umbrella, belonging to a gentleman with a curiously carved ivory head!"

TO THE

COLORED PEOPLE

OF

CONVENTION, 1866.

The State Convention of colored men, held in this city last September, as a medium through which the colored citizens could communicate their thoughts, purposes and desires, formed a State League, with its auxiliaries, to look after the interests of the Colored People of the State. The State Legislature has been memorialized in behalf of the colored people, and our petition was treated with respectful consideration. We have, as far as practicable, established auxiliary Leagues to promote the cause of Education, and to look after the suffering poor. While we feel a deep sense of gratitude to those Benevolent Societies which have done so much for the Freedman, still we are conscious of the fact that we must learn to rely upon ourselves, and the world is looking to us for a demonstration of our capacity to perform the part of useful, intelligent citizens.

The State League is the only recognized organization we, as a colored people, have; and it having performed its duties to the best of its ability, it was enjoined upon us to call another Convention, to be held in the City of Raleigh, on the first Tuesdays in October next, the 2nd. day of the month. Let each county be represented as the counties are represented in the State Legislature. In counties where there are Leagues the county to be represented by the Leagues.—Let each county send its best men as delegates.—This is no time to compliment friends at the expense of the public good. Let the people be influenced only by the consideration of qualification, and let the delegates be here promptly on the day appointed, that we may counsel together for the good of our people, and adopt such measures as will best promote our interests.

It is earnestly desired that every county be fully represented.

Delegates will come prepared to defray the expenses of the Convention.

BATTLE'S DIGEST.

The Digest of all the reported law cases in North Carolina, from the earliest period to the present year, is now nearly ready for the binder. It will consist of about 1200 pages, including the table of cases, &c.—The book has been so arranged that it can be bound in one volume, or in two, according to the preference of the purchaser.

The cost of publication has been greater than was expected, in consequence of the book being larger, and it is ascertained that the author cannot afford to charge less than $15 for the volume or volumes of the Law, and $10 for the Equity volume to be paid on or before the delivery of the volumes respectively. The work, though containing much more matter, will cost but little more in currency, than was formerly charged in gold or its equivalent for the aggregate of Iredell's and Jones's Digest.

When a purchaser wants an interleaved copy, he will so state in his order for the work. There will be an additional price of one dollar for such copy.

We have consented to act as agents for Judge Battle in the sale of the Digest, and now solicit immediate orders, accompanied with directions as to how the book shall be bound, &c.

The printing of the Equity volume will be commenced without delay.

PROSPECTUS.

This company owns by warranty title nearly fourteen thousand acres of mineral lands, situated in the counties of Chatham, Moore, Rockingham and Stokes, on the waters of Deep and Dan Rivers, in North Carolina, which abound in plentiful deposits of coal, copper, iron, salt, and, there is every reason to believe from general and surface indications, petroleum or coal oil.

The services of two practical and efficient men, experienced in boring for oil, and stimulated by a long course of success in Venango county, Pennsylvania, were secured by the company several months since and they are now on the lands, with the requisite force, tools, steam engine and machinery, boring a well with very flattering prospects of success. The organization of this company effected some time since has now been perfected in legal form, by act of incorporation, with a capital of $500,000, divided into 100,000 shares of $5 each.

By reference to the valuable and laborious reports of Prof. Emmons, State Geologist, and Commodore Wilkes, U. S. Navy, every one interested will be enabled to judge of the value of the large area of territory secured by the North Carolina Petroleum and Mining Co.

It is well known that a superior article of bituminous coal is now being mined in the Deep river coal region, where a portion of the lands are situated, and this company owns property known to be equal if not superior to any on which shafts have been sunk. Copper, iron and salt also abound, and the attention of capitalists has already been directed to this section on account of its value for the above minerals.

Below are given a few extracts from the journals showing that there is no good reason why there should not be as large quantities of oil in the "Old North State" as in other States.

Oil has been struck in Overton county, Tennessee, on the north line of that State, about midway from its eastern border, eighteen miles from the Cumberland mountains.—Christian (Richmond) Observer.

OIL WELLS IN WEST VIRGINIA.—The Parkersburg Times gives an astonishing statement of the yield of wells in the region thereabout, consisting of Wood, Wirt, Ritchie and other counties, viz: Burning Springs, 2,500 barrels per day; White Oak, 1,500; Lick Run, 300; Horse Neck, 150; and of the several wells on Hughes river, 6,000 barrels per day. The quality is said to be remarkably fine. The Times considers the oil of West Virginia the best yet discovered.

THE OIL EXCITEMENT IN ILLINOIS.—The oil excitement in Clark county is still high. Some eight or ten derricks are up and at work. The deepest well is only 325 feet, with a fair yield of oil. Some of the other wells have struck oil and gas at from 70 to 100 feet. Much time and money will be spent this summer in the thorough development of the oil resources of Clark county. Men of capital and experience seem confident that oil will be found in large quantities, and are willing to test their faith by a free expenditure in developing the lands. The first company who bored on the land of Hon. T. R. Young, are now engaged in trying to raise the auger which was lost last fall. The Eastern Illinois Company will begin work in a few days twelve miles southwest of the first well. The prospect in that locality is good.—Chicago Tribune.

It is known that after a few months boring in the vicinity of Lynchburg, a large vein of oil was struck and a productive well is now in successful operation. This is on the same line with, and about 80 miles from, the company's first well on Dan River, where the indications both general and particular are similar.

In order to have sufficient means to develop this valuable property in such a manner as to insure success, the Directors have authorized 10,000 shares of the capital stock to be sold to raise a working capital, and subscriptions for that number or any part thereof will be received.

An uncommonly favorable opportunity for investment is thus afforded, as those who choose to buy stock under this offer will have the advantage of an equal footing with the original corporators in an enterprise which, after the example of the immense profits realized in those of a similar character in other States, though in many respects on less favorable conditions than this, (compare the extent, cheapness and fee simple title of the basis of operations here offered) gives reasonable assurance of the most lucrative results. In many instances in sections of less favorable oil localities, shares have advanced in a few days from $2 or $5 to $20 and even $50, and poor men who made small investments realized fortunes.

Further information may be had at the office of the company, one door north of the Court House, Greensboro, N. C., where books of subscription are now open.

By order of the Directors.

BASE BALL CLUB.—The young men of this City, and some that are not so young, have formed themselves into a Base-ball Club. We are pleased to notice such a development of appreciation of the manly sports.

DELEGATES TO THE PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.—We have heard of no Convention in the Fifth District, for the appointment of delegates to the Philadelphia Convention. A Convention was held in the First District on the 1st. inst., but we have no account of its action as yet. The Convention for this District re-assembles on the 10th inst. (Friday,) for the purpose of supplying the place of the Hon. R. B. Gilliam, who will be prevented, by judicial duties, from attending. The delegation from this State, as far as ascertained, is constituted as follows.

LARGE LUMP OF GOLD.—Another large lump of gold has been obtained at one of the mines of P. C. Carlton & Co., in this State. It weighs 6½ pounds.

DEATH ON WOLVES AND SNAKES.—On the 25th ult., our fellow-citizens, Wm. M. Porter and son, Robt. W. Porter, and B. I. Burgin, killed five wolves and one rattlesnake on the mountains between Cane Creek and Swannanoa.

Another wolf was wounded but not caught. This was a good day's work. We wish that our friends could pitch in to all "wolves in sheep's clothing," and give the old sarpint of all a good knock on the pate.—Asheville News.

TERRIBLE OUTRAGE.—Last week, in the neighborhood of Harrisburg Depot, Cabarrus county, a negro man committed rape on a highly respectable married lady, while her husband was absent on a visit to this town. The villain, after committing the crime, fled, and the whole neighborhood turned out to hunt him. In the mean-time our City Guard was on the watch for him and succeeded in arresting him near the Depot in this place on Tuesday night. He attempted to escape from the Guard and was shot in the hip by one of the pursuing party. He was lodged in Jail.

There is another negro now in our Jail awaiting trial for a similar offence.

For such crimes the punishment ought to be speedy.—Charlotte Democrat.

Horace Greely is in great wrath at the President's action in reference to the riot at New Orleans. Says he:

"If any doubt existed as to President Johnson's connection with the massacre in New Orleans, it will be removed by reading his dispatch to Attorney-General Herron of Louisiana. This dispatch, written with the knowledge that loyal citizens of the United States were dying from wounds received by a rebel mob, assumes the full responsibility of the deed. The policy that prompted Mayor Monroe and his followers, found its inspiration in Washington."

The letter of General Sheridan will, from its source, extinguish any sympathy which the Radicals have been manufacturing for the Louisiana Convention of resurrects. It exhibits them in a light that is in the last degree odious.

TOMFOOLERY.—A Texas paper says, "Of all tomfoolery for sensible men and women to engage in, commend us to a tournament, in which sorry knights, upon more sorrowful but well-gingered plow horses, punch at teeching-rings with elongated broom-sticks. 'Suitable armor' made of paper muslin must be worn, lest the saddle should gall and cause the rider to limp when the 'knight with a patch on his trowsers' dismounts to lay the crown before the feet of his peerless dulcines. Oh! it is rich."

NEWS BY THE MAILS.

Washington News.

Mr. Charles O'Conor has arrived here. His recent visit to his client, Jefferson Davis, is understood to have reference to the late flimsy charges made by the House Judiciary Committee that Davis is guilty of complicity in the assassination plot. It is not believed that Holt will give Mr. O'Conor access to the so called evidence in his possession on which he professes to rely to sustain the charges.

It is reported from Washington that the President is only awaiting the return of Postmaster General Randall to remove a large number of postmasters.

JUST LIKE THEM.—We find the following among the resolutions passed at a recent Radical Convention in Illinois:

Resolved, That "treason must be made odious," but that it cannot be made odious by giving rebels seats in Congress, nor by feeding Jefferson Davis on poached eggs and fried oysters.

Such things as that emanating from a State convention of Radicals show the dignity and capacity of those who support the Radical leaders.

"Last Ninety Days."

The New York Watchman, of the 4th., contains the concluding number of the series of articles entitled "The last Ninety Days of the War in North Carolina," which have been contributed to that paper by an accomplished lady of this State. These papers have been read with great interest throughout the country, and we hope to see them at once consolidated and published in a volume. As a valuable contribution to Southern literature, a faithful history of the part that North Carolina took in the great war, an earnest vindication of her people and the leaders of her public sentiment, and a touching narrative of her sufferings, they deserve preservation in a durable form.

We take the liberty of making the following extract from the concluding number:

"The benefits of the war in our State should not be overlooked in summing up even a slight record concerning it. It brought all classes nearer to each other. The rich and the poor met together. A common cause became a common bond of sympathy and kind feeling. Charity was more freely dispensed, pride of station was forgotten. The Supreme Court judges, and the ex-governors whose sons had marched away in the ranks side by side with those of the day-laborer, felt a closer tie henceforth to their neighbor. When a whole village poured in and around one church building to hear the ministers of every denomination pray the parting prayers and invoke the farewell blessings in unison on the village boys, there was little room for sectarian feeling. Christians of every name drew nearer to each other. People who wept, and prayed, and rejoiced together as we did for four years, learned to love each other more. The higher and nobler and more generous impulses of our nature were brought constantly into action, stimulated by the heroic endurance and splendid gallantry of our soldiers, and the general enthusiasm which prevailed among us. Heaven forbid we should forget the good which the war brought us, amid such incalculable evils; and Heaven forbid we should ever forget its lessons—industry, economy, ingenuity, patience, faith, charity, and above all, and finally, humility, and a firm resolve henceforth to let well alone.

That North Carolina has within herself all the elements of a larger life and hope, and a more diffused prosperity than she has ever known, is not to be doubted by those who are acquainted with the wealth of her internal resources and the consummate honesty, industry, and resolution of her people. Time will heal these wounds yet raw and bleeding; the tide of a new and nobler life will yet fill her veins and throb in all her pulses; and taught in the school of adversity the noblest of all lessons, our people will rise from their present dejection when their civil rights have been restored them, and with renewed hope in God will go on to do their whole duty as heretofore. Silently they will help to clear the wreck and right the ship; silently they will do their duty to the dead and to the living, and to those who shall come after them; silently and with the modesty of all true heroism they will do great things, and leave it to others to publish them. Remarkable as North Carolinians have ever been for reticence and sobriety of speech and action, it is reserved for such epochs as those of May 20, 1776, and May 20, 1861, and for such great conflicts as succeeded them, to show what a fire can leap forth from this grave, impassive people—what a flame is kindled in generous sympathy, what ardor burns in defense of right and liberty.—They are now to show the world what true and ennobling dignity may accompany defeat, surrender, and submission.

I close these slight and inadequate sketches of a memorable time with the words of my first sentence. The history of the great war is yet to be written, and can scarcely be fairly and impartially written by this generation. But it is our imperative duty to ourselves and to our dead to begin at once to lay up the costly material for the great work. Every man should contribute freely according to his ability, gold and silver, precious stones, iron and wood; and with this motive, I have ventured to present such an outline of events in the last ninety days as circumstances would permit me to gather."

Another movement for the completion of the National Washington Monument is being made, and contributions are to be asked.

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
110 Gouverneur Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

HILLSBOROUGH MILITARY ACADEMY.

The exercises of this well known institution, founded by the late Col. C. C. Tew, will be resumed on the 1st. day of October next, under the direction of Gen. R. E. COLSTON, a graduate, and for fifteen years, (up to the commencement of the war) a Professor of the Va. Military Institute.

The course of instruction will be such as to make the Academy a great a school of theoretical and applied science—in which languages and literature will also receive a full share of attention. The discipline and instruction will be upon a complete military basis.

Gen'l. Colston's long experience and extensive acquaintance enable him to assure the public, that he will secure the services of Professors of distinguished ability as the wants of the school require them, and he confidently relies upon the liberal patronage of his old friends and companions in arms, throughout N. C. and the whole South.

Applications for admission must be made as early as practicable, to the Superintendent, and accompanied by testimonials of good moral character. Circulars containing full information will be issued in a few days. For these, and all further particulars, apply to GEN. R. E. COLSTON,
Superintendent Hillsborough Military Academy,

MAGGIEL'S FEVER AND AGUE

PILLS!!

THESE famous remedies, known throughout the great West of the United States for their extraordinary cures of

CHILLS, FEVER AND AGUE

are now thoroughly introduced in the State of North Carolina, and can be obtained of all enterprising, first class druggists.

They act as a tonic to all debilitated systems, taken in doses of

One Pill Three Times A Day,

before meals, and should be found in every family residing in miasmatic districts.

To any skeptic or one who does not believe in these marvellous preparations,

A Box Will be sent Free

If he is not cured with one and not more than two boxes, no charge will be made. The price of the Pills is high—say but as they are a perfect cure without trouble or inconvenience, the charge is reasonable enough.

Address J. MAGGIEL, M. D., 43 Fulton St.,
New York.

CAUTION.

Watch narrowly and guard yourselves vigilantly against counterfeits. I have just suppressed a notorious counterfeit in Wisconsin, after much trouble and expense. Purchase of only first class druggists and never of peddlers or traveling dealers.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

FEVER and Ague is not the only consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, in malarious districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all alike. It is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and moreover is perfectly safe. No harm can arise from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Can this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever? It is true of this, and its importance to those afflicted with the complaint cannot be over estimated. So sure is it to cure the Fever and Ague, that it may be truthfully said to be a certain remedy. One Dealer complains that it is not a good medicine to sell, because one bottle cures a whole neighborhood.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.
